

MENUHIN COMPETITION LONDON 2016 TEENAGE VIOLIN PRODIGIES TO PERFORM AT WORLD ECONOMIC FORUM

CELEBRATING THE
MENUHIN CENTENARY

Press information for immediate release: Friday 16 January 2015.

Two Junior Prize winners of the world famous MENUHIN COMPETITION are delighted to be invited to perform a recital at the World Economic Forum in Davos Switzerland, by the World Food Programme, the food assistance and emergency relief agency of the UN.

On Thursday 22 January 2015, the two teenagers, 13 year old Daniel Lozakovitj from Sweden and 15 year old Ludvig Gudim from Norway, accompanied by the MENUHIN COMPETITION's Artistic Director, Gordon Back, will be performing at the World Food Programme "World Leaders" event, hosted by the UN Secretary General Ban Ki-moon.

The young prodigies will perform works including: Saint-Saëns, Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso, plus music by Mozart and Kreisler.

Robert F. Smith Founder, Chairman, CEO of Vista Equity Partners says: "Vista Equity Partners is thrilled to bring the talent of young Menuhin violinists to the World Economic Forum in Davos, and there is no better place than the World Food Programme dinner to showcase the bright stars of the future."

The competition is run by the Menuhin Competition Trust a UK registered charity. In 2016 the host city will be London - MENUHIN COMPETITION LONDON 2016
